Gov. Kerner Is Asked To Aid Lake Park

Delegation Seeks Help In Obtaining Illinois Funds for Development

Aid of Gov. Kerner in obtaining $400,000 in state funds to finance the first steps in development of Horseshoe Lake Park was sought at Springfield yesterday by area members of the Illinois Horseshoe Lake Commission and Madison-St. Clair county legislators.

The group met with Gov. Kerner at the capital at 11 a.m. to discuss the commission's recently announced plan to acquire Horseshoe Lake bottomland and surrounding acreage as the initial step in a program to develop the area into a recreational park and wildlife refuge.

The delegation was headed by Henry D. Karandjef, board chairman of the Horseshoe Lake Trust & Savings Bank and chairman of the Illinois commission, who said the governor expressed his full approval of the project and explained that a shortage of funds had prohibited appropriations in previous legislative assemblies.

Gov. Kerner told us that he was highly in favor of the Horseshoe Lake development and that he will meet soon with William T. Lodge of the conservation department and Eugene Graves of the Department of Business & Economic Development to consider the possibility of obtaining funds from the present session of the General Assembly," Karandjef said.

To Seek U. S. Aid Karandjef explained that the Department of Business & Economic Development is being included in the development program since federal funds will be sought to supplement any state appropriation grants under the program. Federal funds would have to be obtained through the business and economic agency, either from the federal Housing & Urban Development agency or the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation.

In addition to Karandjef, members of the delegation that met with the governor included commission members Dr. John E. Lee, mayor of Venice, Carl Mathias of Granite City and Herbert Esterlin of Collinsville; State Senator Paul Simon of Troy; State Representative Ralph Smith, Speaker of the Illinois House, of Alton; "Curly" Harris of Granite City; Leonard J. Kennedy of Alton; Edgar Lehman of East St. Louis; and James Holloway of Springfield.

Norman Johnson, representing President Delyre Morris of Southern Illinois University-Southern campus, and Walter "Buck" Simmons, chairman of the Madison County Democratic committee.

The delegation reviewed the recent report submitted to the governor and the legislature Jan. 25 in which it proposed the $400,000 appropriation to acquire 1000 water-covered acres of Horseshoe Lake and asked the General Assembly to formally designate the area as a regional state park.

Gov. Kerner told the group he will call another meeting of the delegation after he has had an opportunity to determine the possibility of an appropriation of the current legislative session.

Aro-Dressel Dairy Becomes Division Of Prairie Farms

Effective yesterday, Aro-Dressel Foods Corp. became the Aro-Dressel Division of Prairie Farms Dairy, Inc., headquartered in Springfield, Ill., a multi-plant, multi-state dairy and food plant operation.

John L. Dressel and William M. Guthrie, president and vice-president of Aro-Dressel, will continue in those capacities, and Aro-Dressel's operating organization here will remain intact. The local dairy has 100 employees here and 25 at its plant in St. Louis.

Regional Operation Dressel said the regional nature of the Prairie Farms operation was one of the key reasons behind his firm's decision to join the organization. The firm now has nine plants operating in six states — Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Indiana, Arkansas and Kansas.

It has been his belief for some time that larger, regional dairy operations can best meet the needs of the future in terms of both technology and marketing," Dressel said.

With today's processing and transportation techniques, there is no longer any such thing as a "local dairy market. We feel that our own objectives and those of our customers will be better served in the long run because of our affiliation with Prairie Farms."

Aro-Dressel, whose 1966 sales approximated $8 million, will be the largest division of Prairie Farms, whose 1966 sales exceeded $22 million.

Aro-Dressel observed its 40th anniversary in 1965.

30 Operating Engineers Off Highway Job Here

Refusal by many AFL-CIO operating engineers to work unless guaranteed a job in a personal construction project has caused a shortage of labor on the highway construction project in the Quad-City area.

5 DAYS WITHOUT A QUAD-CITY TRAFFIC DEATH

Following the brief declarations of tribute, Mr. Gray outlined the progress of General Steel Industries as a major supplier of railway castings under Mr. Whitehead's leadership. His address, supplemented by the showing of slides, bearing statistics and charts on the growth of General Steel, said that Mr. Whitehead was responsible for building an industry "which has meant much to Granite City and which will continue to be a major factor in the development of this area."

"Anyone who knows the history of Charles Powell Whitehead's business career knows that his story is also the story of General Steel," Mr. Gray added.

Joined Firm in 1919 "As a very young man, he (Whitehead) joined the predecessor company, Commonwealth Steel Co., in 1919. Since that time the growth and development of General Steel is synonymous with his activity through four decades," Gray related.

"And anyone knows," Mr. Gray continued, "the history of industry in this area recognizes, as you have here tonight, the importance of both Mr. Whitehead and General Steel in our community."

"We are proud of the four decades of service that Mr. Whitehead has given to General Steel as a token of gratitude for his efforts in behalf of the Boy Scouts."

Milton G. Reinhardt, president of the YMCA board—"No one ever needed help more than the YMCA about ten years ago. Our building had deteriorated over the years and our facilities were inadequate. Mr. Whitehead led a drive, the results of which met our needs. I know that in expressing our thanks for your help, Mr. Whitehead, we also express the thanks of our entire area."

State, City Work Out S. Nameoki Road Plan

Deadline to Let Contract Is May 29; Timetable Set for Right-of-Way

Improvement of the south half of Nameoki road may get a start this year after all. Robert Kronst, district highway engineer, concluded at a special meeting of the city council Tuesday night. He also was hopeful about the Route 151 frontage road in West Granite.

After hearing reports on progress for acquisition of right-of-way from the city appraiser and sounds like we're not too bad off for South Nameoki road."

He outlined a timetable for the office to prepare for the city. He said, however, that the city office will require condemnation petitions from the city in the next two weeks for quick-take areas on parcels of property for which no purchase agreements can be reached.

All right-of-way arrangements must be approved by the attorney general's office and by the state highway division if the state is to let contracts during the first half of this year, Kronst said, and the last contract letting for the period will be held on May 29.

No Funds Later "If we don't get this contract in the first half of this year, I doubt if we can get the necessary funds in the second half," Kronst said. "We had it set for last year."

"The federal government cut back $38 million to the state of Illinois for the first half of this year."

"We have a tremendous balance of right-of-way, added to the balance of gasoline taxes, but then the fund dwindled rapidly, and by September of October there is very little in the highway fund."

Kronst set a rough time schedule for the city to fulfill requirements in obtaining right-of-way on the remainder of the total of 121 parcels, which he set at about 12.

Condemnation Petitions If condemnation petitions are ready within two weeks, it will take a month for the attorney general to approve them, Kronst said, and it would take another two weeks to set court hearings. If a special attorney general is appointed to handle the cases, Attorney Ketchenhausen, district engineer of right-of-way, added that it takes six weeks to issue checks for the property, and another 100, must be done by mid-April."

Kronst opened the meeting on a critical note, telling the council, "You have a backlog of work you pounced on the state two years ago on the north half with the campaign co-chairman, M. B. Milanski, by Joseph Chiv. United Fund board president, who noted that this is the third successive year that United Fund agencies are getting their full allocations."

Glick added that in its 10th year, the United Fund raised the largest sum in its history — $363,552, topping last year's $363,552, to meet the community needs.

Agency Allocations The amounts to be allocated to the United Fund agencies for this year's operations follow: Red Cross, $2,000; American Red Cross, $2,000 for the local chapter and $25,000 for Vietnam and disaster relief; Boy Scouts, $46,000; Boys' Town of Illinois, $6,000; Catholic

Mandamus Suit Filed to Cut GC To Seven Wards

Hearing Next Tuesday — Just 7 Days Before Candidate Filing Ends

A suit seeking a writ of mandamus ordering the city to re-district its boundaries into seven wards, rather than the present eight wards, was filed this week in circuit court at Edwardsville, where a hearing is set for 2 p.m. next Tuesday.

The action came after the city council last week approved a re-districting plan for eight wards, designed to equalize the distribution of voters among the wards.

The suit filed in behalf of Floyd Miller, 2451 Missouri avenue, by Paul Pratt, East Alton attorney, is to test the legality of eight wards. It claims that according to state statutes, the city has a right to seven wards and 14 aldermen based on the present population of about 43,000.

Miller, a retired foreman at Union Star & Reining Co., who resides in the Fourth Ward, could not be reached for comment.

Named defendants were Mayor Partney, City Clerk Pendleton and the 16 city aldermen, who were notified officially at Tuesday night's special council session.

The suit petitions that the city be redistricted into seven wards not less than 30 days prior to the time fixed for the next succeeding general election.

Filing to End Feb. 13 However, that time limit will be held in abeyance for the forthcoming April 4 city election by the time of the court hearing on Tuesday. The filing period for city candidates closes Feb. 13.

The complaint cites state statutes which authorize cities with populations of 30,000 to have seven wards and 14 aldermen, plus an additional ward and two more aldermen for the next 20,000 in population. On the basis of the 1960 census, Granite City's population was 40,010.

Mayor Partney noted that the eighth ward was added in 1955, a few years after the 1950 census. An area was annexed to the city, boosting the population above the 30,000 mark.

He explained that he was not adverse to a seven-ward, 14-alderman council, if ordered by the court, but that the city council would have approved that type of plan—it would have eliminated two of the aldermen.

"It is apparent to the suit he added, "It would have been better if this was thought of three or four years ago, but now it being so close to the election, it only serves to confuse the people."

Partney's Suggestion "With some of the problems I have with the aldermen, 14 is plenty, and maybe too many. Maybe it would be better to have seven wards with seven aldermen elected city-wide. I believe there would be more accomplished. This could be done by referendum."

He added that an answer will have to be filed by Monday, and that either he or assistant City Attorney Norman Kinder will handle it.

Alderman Rutledge, who headed the redistricting committee, remarked that he isn't positive as to what they have asked. The

$4,677,000 Order For Dow Plant

Dow Chemical Company's Madison plant was awarded a $4,677,000 government contract to produce aluminum extrusions for air field landing strips. It was announced Tuesday at the Washington office of Cong. Melvin Price (D).

A spokesman for the local plant said the contract is an extension of earlier contract awards for the landing field mats and will be produced by the normal work force of 110 persons.

The contract award was made by the Department of Defense General Services Administration. Price noted that the contract awards to the Dow plant during the 1966 fiscal year totaled $18,412,000.

Combating Illegal Drug Use Needs Support of Citizens

Law enforcement officials now have a weapon to use in their efforts to combat abuse of certain medically important prescription drugs.

"We must be alert for sudden changes in behavior or school performance. If a youngster's behavior changes drastically, or if he appears drugged or intoxicated, we should have the family physician examine him."

The adult abuser of drugs usually has a history of social maladjustment, German said. The pressures and demands of society are too much for him to bear, and he often has a background of family difficulties, disciplinary problems in school and trouble with the police.

Escaping Reality
 "At some point he finds there are artificial ways to escape reality. He draws a chemical curtain between himself and the outside world," German said. For youngsters the situation usually is somewhat different, he continued.

Youngsters feel a need to be "somebody" and to feel a part of something. A significant factor is the juvenile drug abuse usually takes place in a gang or party setting. Someone starts it and everyone else goes along for fear of appearing "chicken," German said.

Public Apathy Handicap
 The law whose major provisions went into effect on Feb. 1, 1966, requires manufacturers and wholesalers who handle amphetamine (stimulant), barbiturate (depressant), and certain other prescription drugs to register with the federal government. Together with pharmacists and physicians who dispense medicine, they are required to make available to U. S. Food and Drug Administration inspectors records of sales and inventory of these drugs.

The law, however, is not successful without our support," German said, adding, "nothing handicaps the police of a law enforcement official."

However, legislation and law enforcement, important as they are, will not wholly eradicate the "hidden sickness" of drug abuse, German declared, and added — "The basic solution is to overcome people's need for escape hatches and kicks."

There is a "crying need" for a greater awareness of the danger inherent in misusing drugs, the speaker said. "We should let young people know that drug abuse is a sordid escape hatch for people unwilling to face up to problems. Since youngsters often like to feel they're living dangerously, we should point out that there's nothing glamorous about it."

Memorial Services

Tonight, Sunday

Memorial services will be conducted this evening and on Sunday for Mrs. Mabelle L. Minnick, widely-known Granite City bookmobile librarian and a former school teacher here, who died Monday at the Colonnade Nursing Home. She had been a patient at the nursing home since becoming ill with cancer in October.

The Rev. Dr. David B. Maxton, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, will officiate during services at 7:30 p.m. today at Mercer's Chapel, and at the close of the 11 a.m. Sunday morning worship service at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Friends from a wide area are expected to attend both memorial services, including many teachers, former pupils and public and parochial school children with whom she had been associated in her work with the library's bookmobile.

Widely Known, Respected

Mrs. Sarah Schroeder, Granite City assistant librarian and a close friend of Mrs. Minnick, said today, "It is impossible to calculate the great many lives Mrs. Minnick has affected in the Granite City area through her years as a teacher and in connection with the public library."

In earlier years, Mrs. Minnick devoted many hours of service to the Lincoln Place Community center when originally sponsored for area residents by the old Commonwealth Steel Co. Later, she also helped to organize summer playground centers for local children.

Born in the Alhambra area, she moved to Granite City about 40 years ago when she became a teacher at McKinley school. Mrs. Minnick also had lived in St. Louis while teaching here. She became a member of the Granite City public library staff on a part-time basis in 1952 and was appointed as the bookmobile librarian a year later. Her husband, Ray David Minnick, died in April 1950.

Mrs. Minnick, about 75 years old, of 2204 Edison avenue, will have her body to the Washington University medical school and her eyes to the eye bank.

In lieu of flowers, the family is requesting donations be made to the Cancer Fund, in care of Robert Thomas at Mercer Mortuary, 1416 Niedringhaus avenue.

Survivors include a niece, Mrs. Ralph Ambrose of Anderson, Ind., who with her husband, Dr. Ambrose, presently is staying at Mrs. Minnick's home; and cousins in the Champaign area.

MORE ABOUT 30 Operating struction of the railroad overpass for Federal Aid Route 151, west of Granite City, did not report to the job today and that work on the project had stopped. The project employs about 30 operating engineers and six other workers.

Jack Green, business representative for International Brotherhood of Building Laborers Union, Local 397, said several Local 397 members reported the job closed down due to a lack of operating engineers.

"Implications of the operating engineers' walkout could have widespread repercussions in all construction equipment. He said building trades projects and many eventually shut down a great many jobs here," Green said, adding "Local 397 officials are very interested in the outcome of the operating engineers' action and we are watching development closely."

The business agent also commented that union officers plan to contact the local's attorney to verify their own members' position in such personal liability suits.

GC Steel Has Coverage Dressed told the Press-Record that Granite City Steel Co. was among the first employers to see the problems involving a possible lack of adequate protection for operators of heavy equipment. He said the steel company filed a "state contract" against three union members involved in separate on-the-job accidents had precipitated the walkouts.

It also was learned the Southern Illinois Builders Association has asked the National Labor Relations Board to intervene in the dispute.

ends and trucks were developed while Mr. Whitehead was building a sales and service organization whose skills were required even during depression years.

"As a result, General Steel survived," Mr. Gray commented.

Met War Demands

"By the end of the decade the company was headed in new directions and was ready to meet the demands of the upcoming war years as many of you remember and C. P. Whitehead was widely recognized as a dynamic force in the railway supply industry."

"Referring to developments in the decade of the 1940's, he pointed out, 'After the war, new production techniques and new products kept the company in the forefront of the railway supply business. Mr. Whitehead was elected president of General Steel in 1946 and became the chief architect of its future development."

"In 1948 the General Steel's executive offices were returned to Granite City by the railroad. . . he said at the time that 'many of the skills and principles that made the company successful in its earliest years were contributed by men in the St. Louis and Granite City industrial region. It is fitting that management again should stem from this area'."

"In the decade of the 1950's," Gray continued, "new industrial castings were being introduced. Preferred stock and other obligations dating from earlier times were being retired. By the mid-1950's $17 million in mortgage bonds were paid off, $6 millions in dividend arrearage on preferred stock had been paid and $10 million in preferred stock had been redeemed."

Ready for Growth

"General Steel," Gray said, "was now ready for future growth. We were ready to meet the New York Stock Exchange and the company became well known in the financial community. Foreign licensees started marketing products widely overseas. Our acquisitions program began with National Roll joining the GSI family in 1955."

"The General Steel Industries in the 1960's is the best testament to C. P. Whitehead's career," Gray continued. "We have acquired St. Louis Car Division, Ludlow-Saylor, Flex-O-Lite and Standard Pipe- protection and this broadening of the GSI base has led to new and diversified markets. Consolidation of foundry operations at Granite City, started in 1963 and completed recently, has marked a milestone in stabilizing industry in this community. During this decade we have seen new highs in sales and earnings."

"When Mr. Whitehead formally retired from GSI last spring he became chairman of our finance committee and he continued to be interested in our affairs and in the development of the Granite City Community."

"Last Spring," Mr. Gray concluded, "We had a celebration for Charley Whitehead with some of his business friends and family marking his retirement. At that time the company issued a statement on his career, and I want to read what we said in it."

Strong Economy Factor

"You have built your company through a period of difficult depression and problems, into a strong factor in the regional economy and in the industries we represent. GSI has problems today, but they are the right kind of problems and their solution I hope we will always be guided by the kind of resourcefulness and ability that you have shown, and in later working out we hope we can be to some measure as successful as you have been."

Mr. Whitehead was introduced by Henry D. Karandjeff, who remarked, "This great industry (General Steel) which employs over 2000 and has a payroll of $1 million monthly in the local plant, has been a great asset to our entire community and we predict for its continued growth and prosperity in the years ahead."

Karandjeff added that "Mr. Whitehead has been an inspiration to many of us. His energy and untiring devotion to the success of his industry are responsible for its present position and influence. Mr. Whitehead is the happy faculty of associating with him men of courage and determination. We are happy that he will continue on the board and as chairman of the finance committee."

Karandjeff Presents Awards Karandjeff then presented a large bouquet of roses to Mr. Whitehead and a silver bowl to Mr. Whitehead, as a remembrance of the event and as a token of appreciation. Whitehead told the audience:

"I am overwhelmed and I appreciate this. I was only doing my job and a part of it is community work. I wanted to be a good citizen and wanted the company to be a good citizen. That is expected of industry."

"I'll let you know the first 10 years are the hardest, and the hardest part of it all was getting across the McKelvey Bridge." He reiterated that when he first started working at General Steel, it took him 1½ hours to get to work on the bridge, making three changes; that he started first in the drafting department and then switched to sales.

More Castings Work Referring to the move here in 1950 when the Edgemoor, Pa., plant was closed, "The consolidation brought large industrial castings to the local plant with its railroad and armor casting production."

"This should give great stability to the area and more work. It is a great stroke for the community and to the General Steel organization. I feel this is of great benefit to this community."

He added that his success was due to his early training and to the loyalty of his staff. "I'll always have an interest in General Steel and my many friends. And I'll always have fond memories."

Whitehead recalled how he met Ashley Gray when he was chairman of the 1956 St. Louis Union-Gray campaign and Gray was chairman of the speakers' bureau. It was a few months later that Gray joined the sales staff for General Steel then went up the ladder as vice-president and in 1964 became president.

"We know the business and are building a young industrial organization," Whitehead said "GSI will go to greater heights than ever before."

Ernest Karandjeff served as master of ceremonies throughout the program. The invocation was given by Dr. Raymond D. Troyer, president of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association, and the benediction was given by Rev. Arthur W. Truemmer, pastor of Concordia Lutheran Church.

The program followed a dinner served at 6:15 p.m. A total of 600 guests were seated at a milestone in stabilizing industry in this community. During this decade we have seen new highs in sales and earnings."

than 5000. Granite City and Alton were affected because their boundaries, as townships, are contiguous to city boundaries. Other Madison townships involved included Edwardsville, Collinsville, Wood River and Godfrey.

Causes Scheduled Because of the attorney general's ruling, caucuses have been arranged in all three of the Quad-City townships on Feb. 7. Township officials were withholding an official decision to day on the status of the caucuses, pending conferences with township attorneys.

Harry Briggs, supervisor of Nameki township whose term expires this year along with that of assistant supervisor Roger Delour and Highway Commissioner Charles Hanks, said that the law still requires that political parties to conduct caucuses "whether they nominate anyone or not."

Briggs said that the emergency bills passed by the legislature in 1965 cleared away town clerks to accept independent candidates' petitions, but do not remove the part of the law requiring major political parties of townships of not more than 5000 population to conduct caucuses.

"It is true we haven't held such caucuses in past years, but we actually were in violation of the law by not doing so," Briggs said.

Met With Attorney He said he and town board members had conferred on the matter with Township Atty. Nick Vassileff, who advised them to conduct the caucuses regardless of the new legislation.

Briggs, Delour and Hanks filed nominating petitions on the opening of the filing period Jan. 9, but due to the apparent illegality of the filing on the basis of the attorney general's ruling, plans were made for both Democrat and Republican caucuses to be held next Tuesday night — the Democrats at State Park Community Center and the Republicans at the Nameki township office.

Reports that organized opposition to Briggs and the other two members of his ticket were developing in the township.

In Venice township, assistant supervisor Claude Echols and Highway Commissioner Frank Kinack, whose terms expire this year, have filed for re-election by petitions, but caucuses also were scheduled as a precaution against the chance that the emergency amending bills might not clear the legislature before the filing deadline Feb. 13. Arthur "Cooper" Moore, Venice township supervisor, said today that he is uncertain as to whether the caucuses will be called off in view of passage of the new bills.

Likes Open Election "I'm not in favor of caucuses," Moore said. "I like to see anyone run for office who wants to run."

He said, however, that in view of the legal conflict raised by the attorney general's opinion, he planned to confer with the township attorney before announcing any decision concerning the scheduled caucuses.

Chouteau township has only one township official in this year's April 4 balloting—that of highway commissioner, Ben Eberhart, incumbent highway commissioner for 16 years. No petitions have been filed in Chouteau on the advice of Town Clerk Walter Sparks that filing be delayed pending outcome of legislative action on the emergency bills. Eberhart has indicated he will not seek re-election, but at least four persons have obtained petitions as potential candidates, Supervisor Joseph Trochke said.

The emergency bills which now permit filing by petition by independent candidates and minor parties were introduced in the Illinois House on Jan. 9 and given third and final reading in the House on Jan. 18. The bills were taken to the Senate on Jan. 19, given final reading Tuesday and sent immediately to the governor.

Governor Kerner, signed the bills at 11:45 a.m. yesterday.

Ronald Dillard, treasurer of the Granite City school board, and William Harris, member of the school board.

Donald Partney, mayor of Granite City, said that Whitehead has been responsible for many achievements in our community, from the Boy Scouts, the YMCA, the United Fund and the 1958 addition to the hospital. . . each and every one of our citizens finds it a pleasure to pay honor to you."

Partney presented Whitehead with a certificate of honorary citizenship in Granite City. Others at the head table who were introduced were C. E. Townsend, editor and publisher of the Press-Record; John Bloodworth, president of the Associated Retailers; Boyd Presley, president of the Javices;

Overtime Loss at Bunker Hill 55-54 Mars Venice Title Hopes

The Venice Red Devils seemed destined to beat their arch MCM conference foe, Bunker Hill, after gaining a one-period lead, but the two well-balanced teams fought "neck and neck" into overtime and the host team squeaked to a 55-54 win at Bunker Hill Tuesday.

Taking the initiative, the Red Devils gained a four-point advantage during the first quarter, leading 13-9, but then fell behind at the half, 28-21.

Venice was beaten by Bunker Hill in their first meeting this season 57-51 and 77-39 in a second meeting. Trying to avoid a third loss and probable nullification of their MCM championship hopes, the Red Devils rallied in the third period to tie the game, Lloyd Harper sinking the tying basket.

Venice Takes Lead
Rich Essington, then sank a 20-foot shot to put the Red Devils in the lead, but the Minutemen countered and took the lead at the end of the third period, 36-32. In an anxious fourth period, both evenly-matched teams tried desperately to gain control of the ball. Venice had two turnovers, once on a traveling violation and once on an over-the-line-and-back penalty. Minutemen Rich Scroggins and JJAMES capitalized on the Red Devil errors and sank two baskets during the score Bunker Hill 46, Venice 40.

Rebounding a Problem
John Gardner sank three 20-foot jump shots during the quarter but offsetting them were Venice rebounding problems.

The Red Devils advanced their score on a Denny Hill-Essington combination shot but still were behind 48-43.

Essington, who displayed his versatility as a playmaker throughout the game, added to Venice's score, but Bunker Hill kept ahead and led 51-47.

With 30 seconds left in the game, Gardner scored on a 20-foot jump shot. In the final 15 seconds, Essington tied the game 51-51 with an outcourt shot.

Successful Manuever
With but one second left before the buzzer, Lloyd Harper was called for fouling Minutemen Scroggins. Scroggins missed his charity throw, the game went into overtime and Venice fans began cheering again after undergoing painful suspense awaiting the free throw.

In overtime, the Red Devils stopped their press and went into a deliberate stall, holding onto the ball for two minutes while trying to find an open shooting position.

During the stall, Red Devil Russell Turner was fouled and given two charity shots. He sank the first, but missed the second, giving Venice a one-point advantage.

With 32 seconds remaining, Minutemen Scroggins sank a 10-foot jump shot, putting Bunker Hill ahead 53-52. The Red Devils then called time out to regroup, and when play began again Turner fouled Minutemen Terry

Feed Grain, Wheat Sign-Up Under Way

Sign-up for the 1967 feed grain and wheat programs is now under way in Madison county, according to Lee Rogers, Office Manager, Madison county ASCS. All farmers were recently notified of the program details, and Rogers asked those who are interested to sign up early.

Rogers cautioned farmers that the sign-up period is much shorter this year than in the past, and the five week period will end March 3.

In general, the Commodity Programs are very attractive this year, following drought conditions and low grain prices. The feed grain program calls for a certain amount of acreage to be diverted, and a producer will be eligible to participate by staving within his farm wheat allotment for 1967. By meeting the various provisions of the programs, farmers become eligible for benefits in the form of payments, and also for loans under commodity programs.

However, Rogers is reminding farmers that participation is not automatic—filling an application which shows the operator's program intentions is the first necessary step in qualifying for program benefits. All sign-ups will be conducted at the ASCS county office in Edwardsville.

Rogers also announced that a program information meeting will be held Tuesday evening Feb. 7, in the Farm Bureau Building, at 7:30 a.m. All producers who are interested, or desire more information, are urged to attend.

Sewer Line Repair To Cost $6000-- Take Two Weeks

Repairs to a break in a main sanitary sewer line off Maryville road near Woodlawn avenue will be delayed until earth around the break can be "de-watered," Street Supr. William Warfield, said this week.

He stated it may take as long as two weeks to complete repairs, at a cost of about $6000. The break in the pipe, which is 16 to 18 feet underground, was originally thought to be a crack on a collar of the sewer pipe, but closer examination revealed that the pipe had completely broken away from a connecting manhole.

The street department will continue pumping sewage around the break to maintain a normal flow and to keep the sewage from flooding basements of homes serviced by the line.

Since the pipe lies below the surface of the water table in that area, special deep-well pumps will have to be used to remove the water from the surrounding earth before permanent repairs can be started.

General Steel Industries Net Income Up 27% in 1966

General Steel Industries, Inc., had consolidated net income after provision for taxes of $4,250,844 or $2.08 per share on sales of $88,866,979 during 1966, W. Ashley Gray Jr., president, announced Tuesday.

This compares with earnings of $3,789,428 on sales of $86,715,490 or $1.65 per share in 1965. GSI acquired Pipe Protection Service, Inc., as a wholly-owned subsidiary in December 1966, and the above figures include the result of operations of the two companies for both 1966 and 1965.

"This represents a 27% increase in earnings in 1966 over 1965," Gray announced. "GSI's overall performance last year was excellent. While there is a question concerning the strength of the railroad market in 1967, because of the suspension of the seven per cent investment tax credit, we look forward to satisfactory results in 1967," he said.

There Is An Art To Compounding Medicines

It is true that majority of prescriptions are prepared and just require careful selection, checking of dosage and prevention of dispensing errors. But, we still have physicians who prefer to use our prescriptions to their exact individual formulas.

We keep up with the progress of pharmacy by studying all about new products. We still compound every day prescriptions for capsules, ointments and eye or skin preparations. We are called on less frequently to compound pills or suppositories. We love this art and welcome these more difficult prescriptions.

Downtown Urban Renewal Plans Asked by Council

The Granite City council called for recommendations by the City Plan Commission for improvements to the downtown business district and St. Elizabeth Hospital districts with an aim to obtain a federal urban renewal grant. The request was made during a special meeting Tuesday night.

The action was taken by voice vote of nine aldermen attending upon a motion by Fourth Ward Alderman Rutledge following an explanation of the federal assistance program by Jerry Fieldhouse of the Chicago regional office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Fieldhouse informed the council that it would be almost impossible to obtain a federal planning grant this year as urban renewal funds already are nearly depleted because of cutbacks in spending in some federal programs and because of a large backlog of applications.

"Get the Job Done" Rutledge noted, "If we get a federal grant, we will be obligated to get the job done." He stressed the importance of parking facilities for both downtown and the hospital and with access to the downtown area.

Alderman Nann insisted that any federal plan should include for Granite City exclusive housing as it would be "unfair" to declare as substandard the homes of residents living on pensions or limited incomes.

Alderman Robertson sought to include a new street along the railroad tracks in the industrial section of the city but was told that streets were not included as such in urban renewal programs.

Mayor Partney noted that he previously had asked the council for $1200 as a start in the planning program with hopes of getting a $40,000 federal planning grant this year. Harland Bartholomew & Associates was the firm selected to prepare the necessary application papers, but the Plan Commission believed the work could be done for $800, it was added.

City Share Fieldhouse explained that for cities of less than 50,000 population, the federal government will cover three-quarters of the cost of an urban renewal project, with the city to pay one quarter.

However, cities may use non-cash credits to cover their share of such costs, including money spent for streets, utilities, schools, colleges, hospitals and certain new community buildings.

The federal program is designed to assist municipalities in financial burdens, technical work and protection of the taxpayer in assuring that projects are conducted in conformance with state, federal and local laws, he said.

"As far as special projects for Granite City, it will be up to you to decide," he said. "It is up to you to obtain professional advice in evaluating the advantages and disadvantages of a project. Then you come to us to get into the details of the project."

The federal government provides 100% of the costs in advance to prepare plans and applications for a special project, he added.

The city could include off-street parking to the extent that it would benefit a particular project, as downtown urban renewal, he said, but it would be difficult to obtain a grant for parking alone. "You could re-do an entire downtown business district."

Fieldhouse was introduced by William Hoelscher, manager of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities and chairman of the City Plan Commission.

Revolving Light in Sky Seen at Mitchell

An unidentified flying object was cited in the eastern sky at 11 p.m. Tuesday by William Owens, 4944 Redwood lane, Cedar Park, near Mitchell, as he stood in his front yard. His daughter, Barbara, a Coolidge junior high student, later joined him in the yard and watched the phenomenon.

"It sounds silly, but it was a green, white and red revolving light that stayed in one place for 15 or 20 minutes," Owens related. "After I called my daughter out, it began to move around. There was no apparent pattern as it moved here and there. Then it faded away, came back and faded away again as clouds moved in."

$882,900 General Fund Cost Fixed In Levee Budget

The East Side Levee and Sanitary District expects to spend $882,900 out of its general fund interest amounting to $1,055,650 during the current fiscal year, according to a new budget subject to approval in a public hearing at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The district's new appropriation ordinance sets up a cost figure of $1,052,900 for the general fund in 1967, but actual expenditures are listed in the budget on the basis of an 85% tax collection this year.

Estimated available income for the general fund is fixed in the budget at $882,900, which would leave an estimated surplus of $381 at the end of the current fiscal year ending Dec. 31. The budget also lists estimated available funds of $81,575 in the Municipal Retirement Fund, out of which anticipated expenditures will amount to $60,000, leaving a year-end surplus of $21,575.

Available funds for payment of bond interest and principal will include $1,068,860 in balances in all bond accounts as of Jan. 1. During the year, the budget specifies, the district expects collection of $69,332 in 1965 taxes still due, and $881,390 in 1966 taxes collected this year. This will provide total available funds of $2,119,584 in the bond fund.

Total available funds in all accounts is budgeted at $3,084,410, including the $882,900 in the general fund, $81,575 in the Municipal Retirement Fund, and $2,119,584 in the bond funds.

Total expenditures from the general, retirement and bond funds are budgeted at $2,000,450, leaving an anticipated surplus of $1,083,960, most of which will be in the bond accounts.

Tomorrow's public hearing will be held by the board of levee district trustees which may then approve the budget and appropriation measure. Following approval of the budget and appropriation measures and their publication, the district may pass the annual tax levy anytime after ten days following publication.

Total estimated expenditures out of the various accounts of the general fund throughout the year include project costs, $378,180; administration, $127,250; engineering, $44,030; general maintenance, $281,670; and police, $52,770, for the total of $882,900.

MORE ABOUT U. S. Housing
County Economic Opportunity Commission.

The agency completed a survey in August among Kerr Islanders whose homes will be eliminated with construction of Federal Aid Route 151.

Statistics show 91 individual families face displacement, including 101 residents under 20 years of age, with 62 of these school-age children, and 63 persons over 50 years. Others are between 20 and 50.

The report also stated that the average length of stay by families on Kerr Island was 28 years and nine months, while the average monthly income per household is $139.

Until the official application containing all facts is presented to federal officials, indication on whether the project may be approved under the government's present funding regulations cannot be determined. Mrs. Moore said.

Bad Weather Motoring Tips Given by GC Police Chief

Many driving hazards encountered in winter weather can be greatly reduced if local motorists will follow a series of suggestions offered by the Quads City Council, according to Granite City Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer.

Despite poor visibility and slippery streets, Chief Veizer emphasized that by following guidelines developed through several years' research by the council's Committee on Winter Driving Hazards, will avoid increasing the number of "bad weather" traffic accidents in the next several months.

Suggestions itemized by Chief Veizer include:

Before starting an auto, clear snow and ice from all windows. If a spray-on deicer is used, wipe windshield free of streaks.

Clean wipers are essential to clear away heavy slush or snow.

To get under way safely in cold weather, start in second gear if car has a stick shift, or in "drive" gear with an automatic. Apply gas sparingly.

"On the road, keep your distance and then some," the police chief advises. "You need a bigger safety cushion in winter, even for normal stops. Also get your brakes to maintain steering control as you stop. He cautioned that lock wheel stops in snow are as slippery as the same skids."

"Use snow tires when possible for better grip and depend upon reinforced tire chains for severe conditions, remembering that even with chains, far slower speeds than normal are necessary."

"Anticipate lane changes and turns, making them gradually. To recover from a skid, steer in the direction of the skid. Pump slowly."

Col. Decker said that the Secretary of Agriculture has determined that barley, oats, rye and soy beans are not now in price-depressing surplus and are, therefore, eligible for production on Government-owned leased land. Therefore, all leases issued will permit production of such crops.

Col. Decker stated that bids will be received until 10 a.m., Feb. 15, and persons interested in leasing may obtain a copy of the invitation for bids by contacting the U. S. Army Engineer District, St. Louis, 906 Olive street, St. Louis, Mo., 63101.

THE STORY OF THE DISAPPEARING COOKIE
In a house full of children, cookies have a way of disappearing rapidly. No matter what cookie recipe I try on the Crowley Clan, they vanish.
Although cookies are considered a treat, they do supply a good amount of energy and some protein to the diets of these perpetual motion machines.
This recipe for Potato Chip Cookies not only gives a tasty energy packed cookie but it finally gives us a way to use those crushed or soggy potato chips that we find on the bottom of the package.
POTATO CHIP COOKIES
1 1/2 cups flour, sifted
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 egg
1/2 cup brown sugar, packed
1 cup crushed potato chips
Cream butter and brown sugar. Add egg and vanilla. Beat well. Sift flour and measure. Add salt and baking powder to flour and resift. Add flour to creamed mixture. Mix well. Add crushed potato chips. Shape into a roll and wrap in wax paper. Chill overnight in refrigerator. Slice in 1/4 inch slices and bake at 375° F. for 10 to 12 minutes.

SIU-SW Store Will Not Sell Wearing Apparel

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern Campus will not stock its bookstore with items of questionable educational value. John Rendleman, assistant to SIU President Delyte Morris, told a House Higher Education Committee at Springfield this week.

Rendleman testified in a hearing on a bill to regulate university bookstores.

The bill was referred by House Speaker Ralph Smith (R) Alton to a subcommittee which will make its report on Feb. 22. The bill will be revised by the subcommittee to state in greater detail what may or may not be sold in university bookstores.

Rep. Smith introduced the bill after Quad-City, Edwardsville, Collinsville and Wood River merchants protested that the Southwestern Campus planned to establish a "department store" type of book store, selling hosiery, lingerie, blazers and other wearing apparel which merchants complained would be in direct competition to their businesses.

Cong. Price Seeks Overall Mental Health Center Plan

Cong. Melvin Price, (D), East St. Louis, this week called for the development of comprehensive mental health centers in Madison and St. Clair counties. In a letter to Dr. Harold M. Vitosky, Director, Illinois Department of Mental Health, Price wrote:

"In reviewing community needs in Madison and St. Clair counties it has become readily apparent to me that our area has a critical requirement for additional mental health facilities."

Vitosky replied: "Further motivation and encouragement by persons of your stature and prestige would be most welcome and would accelerate the development process. If, through your efforts and good offices, other civic leaders could be moved to urge action in these directions, I am confident progress will be hastened."

Price said he was encouraged by Dr. Vitosky's information that the existing mental health units in St. Clair county were giving serious consideration to becoming comprehensive mental health centers. Madison county has yet to formulate a plan for comprehensive services. To be considered a comprehensive center five basic programs must be available, including: 1) outpatient; 2) inpatient; 3) partial hospitalization; 4) consultation and education; and 5) emergency services.

Price pointed out that if these services are made available a mental health unit could be eligible for federal construction funds as well as initial staffing grants. Federal law authorizes federal funds to cover up to three-thirds of the construction cost and 75% of initial staffing costs.

Price said with the efforts being made for a vocational education facility at East St. Louis, "We have a unique opportunity to combine the resources of both programs and develop sound community-wide approaches to help meet the social and economic disorders afflicting our communities. With the two facilities working together we can have meaningful programs to help solve our problems of unemployment, juvenile delinquency, and under-achievement in educational and employment endeavors."

Auto Skids on Bridge, Motorist is Hurt

Robert Lowery, 51, of Jennings, Mo., was admitted at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 7 a.m. today for treatment of head injuries suffered in an auto-truck accident on McKinley bridge. A Venetian police said a car driven by Lowery went out of control on frost-slick pavement and skidded sideways into a truck driven by Lloyd A. Shelton of Arnold, Mo. Shelton was headed west and Lowery was driving east when the mishap occurred. Lowery's car, a 1965 Ford, was driven by Lowery's wife, Karen E. Wells, 26, of 24th street, at the Edwardsville road rail crossing at 9:10 a.m. Wednesday. Turner was stopped for flashing red lights at the crossing, and the other driver was unable to stop on wet pavement.

Hit-and-Run Accident

An auto owned by Sandra Harris, 2208 Robert avenue, was struck on the left front by a hit-and-run driver while it was parked in the 2500 block of Iowa street at 7:40 a.m. today.

Metro East Planning Industrial Seminar

Tentative plans for an industrial seminar to be held this spring under sponsorship of Illinois Metro East were discussed Tuesday by the organization's board of directors in a meeting at Howard Johnson's restaurant near Collinsville.

Date for the meeting has not been determined, but it is expected to be held in either April or May. The session will be open to anyone wishing to attend and will not be limited to the Madison-St. Clair county area. Efforts will be made to obtain Gov. Kerner as principal speaker.

C. E. Townsend, editor-publisher of the Press-Record, outlined to the group the organization details and objectives of the East West Gateway Coordinating Council. The board also named Carl Mathias, manager of the Illinois Power Co. in Granite City, as publicity chairman of Metro East.

Walston Named Trustee Of Monticello College

M. D. Walston of Alton, a former Granite Cityan, has been elected to serve a six-year term as a member of the Monticello College Board of Trustees, it was announced Tuesday by Spencer T. Olin, board chairman. Walston, who is president of Walston Aviation Sales, Inc., of East Alton, also serves on the board of directors of the Granite City Trust & Savings Bank and the board of the First Granite City Savings & Loan Association.

Social Security Number is Biggest Tax Return Problem

Missing or inaccurate social security numbers on federal tax returns held up more refunds last year than did anything else.

Jay G. Philpott, IRS district director of central and southern Illinois, today said that unless a tax return is properly identified by number it cannot be processed.

In some cases the number can be obtained from Social Security records, while in others the taxpayer has to be contacted. "Either way, any refund that may be due the taxpayer is held up until the accurate number is obtained," he said.

List Both Numbers

Philpott said when a joint return is filed, the social security numbers of both husband and wife are required if they each have income.

"If the husband is the major breadwinner of the family but the wife has a part-time job, owns stock in her own name or has her own savings account, then the wife's number must also be entered on the return. The wife's number should be listed on the return. The wife's number should be listed on joint returns even though her income is less than $600."

A number is sometimes entered inaccurately on a return when the taxpayer accidentally transposes two numbers. This sort of thing happens when a taxpayer writes the number sequence "959" as "595," Philpott said.

To make sure an accurate number is entered on the return,

Needed for Master File
Philpott pointed out that the social security number is the one used in the IRS automatic data processing system to identify all transactions affecting a taxpayer's federal tax liability.

"The master file for each taxpayer account at the National Computer Center is based on this number," he said.

"To make sure all payments are properly credited to your account and not someone else's, care should be taken to enter an accurate social security number."

Price Seeking Repeal Of Social Security Cut

Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, introduced legislation in Washington last week repealing the Social Security Act requirement reducing benefits of individuals receiving workmen's compensation benefits.

The provision Congressman Price seeks to eliminate is known as the workmen's compensation offset provision, which was added to the Social Security Act in 1950. It provides that a disabled worker may not receive from social security and workmen's compensation more than 80% of his "average current earnings" which he made before becoming disabled. If his benefits exceed that level his social security benefits are cut accordingly.

Price cited the latest available figures which show that 1830 families with 5462 beneficiaries had their social security disability benefits reduced or withheld because of the offset provision. He said there was one case where a family of a disabled worker had their monthly social security disability benefits cut from $181 to $63.

"The net result of the present law is inequitable," Price asserted. "A disabled worker under age 62 faces the prospect of not receiving the benefits he should on the basis of his coverage and contributions to the social security system."

"I said it also penalized states with good workmen's compensation programs because disabled workers receiving adequate state benefits were subject to reduced social security benefits. 'This takes away' the states' initiative to provide sound protection for disabled workers," Price reminded.

License Copy Fee Hike Asked by Paul Powell

Legislation to increase various fees collected by the Automobile, Corporation and Index Division has been introduced into the General Assembly, Secretary of State Paul Powell announced today.

The increases, the first proposed in many years, are designed to offset steadily rising costs of providing copies of records, documents, papers and other items and of processing certain motor vehicle transactions.

In the Automobile Division, the fees would be increased from $1 to $2 for issuing certificates of title, duplicate titles, corrected titles, registration transfers, duplicate registration cards, corrected registration cards and junking certificates.

In the Index and Corporation Divisions, the fees would be increased generally from 35 cents to 50 cents a page for copies of various items and from $1 to $2 for providing certified copies.

Differences in Income Tax Forms Explained

Select the federal income tax form that best suits your need, Jay G. Philpott, district director of Internal Revenue, is advising local taxpayers. He offers some hints to help taxpayers make a selection.

"Form 1040 is the simplest form if you are eligible to use it. If you use this form and your income is less than $5000, Internal Revenue will even figure the tax for you," he related. Generally, you may use this form if your gross income was less than $10,000 and consisted of wages reported on wage and tax statements, Forms W-2, with other wages, interest and dividends not exceeding $200.

Form 1040 must be used if you itemize your deductions. This is the regular two-page form which generally may be used by any individual regardless of the amount or source of income."

Ice Fishing Enthusiasm Mounting Throughout State

Ice fishing is certainly not a spectator sport. As a matter of fact, the average person's reaction is likely to be, "Look at these guys fishing through a hole in the ice! They must be crazy."

Ice fishing grows in popularity every year in Illinois. And it doesn't seem to be a solitary sport either, according to the Illinois Division of Tourism. The summertime fisherman tends to be a loner. The man who discovers a real productive fishing hole may take his closest friend with him but he would be about as apt to disclose its whereabouts to strangers as he would be to give them the key to his safety deposit box.

But the ice fisherman is a sociable animal. Ice fishermen are usually gathered in congenial groups and it's seldom that a lone fisherman is observed on the ice.

The participants often include many women and children. This comes as a surprise to many casual observers for, viewed from a distance in heavy jackets and boots, most winter fishers are presumed to be men.

"Winter fish are better eating than the ones you take in the summertime," say anglers who find ice fishing fascinating. And most of them agree that these fish not only taste better but they are bigger and more of them bite.

Conservationist Mark Tuttle says that from an average catch of half a fish an hour during the short winter season, it jumps up to around a fish and a half during colder months.

"These fishermen get some pretty good catches of perch through the ice," commented one of the State conservation employees at Chain O'Lakes State Park. "I don't know how they stand the cold sometimes, but I guess if you're a fisherman and the fish are biting, you don't worry too much about the weather."

Warm clothing is a must. One of the first, and probably most important requirements, is warm clothing. If you already have the proper clothes to protect you from the wind and water, there's very little cost involved in outfitting your self for an adventure on the ice. In addition to warm but not bulky clothing which will keep out winter blasts, special attention should be given to the hands and feet.

Strongly recommended would be two pairs of gloves with the outer pair rubber or waterproof. If insulated boots or waders are not available, overshoes should be worn over wool socks and leather shoes.

Most of the equipment can be improvised from your present supplies. For example, equipment and fish can be carried in a five gallon pail which will also double as a seat. An old flyrod tip set in a piece of broom handle or dowel rod serves nicely although rods cost only a dollar or two. An ice spud will be needed for chopping holes and a skimmer for cleaning the chipped ice out of the holes, a total investment of from three to seven dollars.

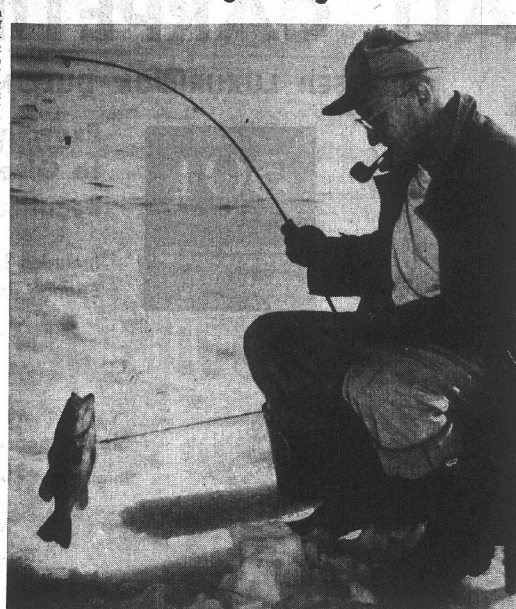

Equipment Extras

There is lots of extra equipment which of course is optional, such as sleds, windbreakers, and heaters. When shelters are used they must be portable and, because of the danger of thaw, can't be left overnight or untended after the first of March.

For safety reasons Illinois fishing regulations require that the hole be no larger than 12 inches in diameter. There are daily limits on some fish, but the winter fisherman is usually practicing good fish management because he helps to keep down certain species which tend to overpopulate the waters.

Old timers often use ice hooks or ice files because the fish seem to be attracted to their bright colors but size 10 to 12 plain hooks can also be used. Having the bait just a few inches off the bottom is recommended as the best place to start fishing.

Lakes, rivers, streams and ponds are all ice fishing possibilities. Tell-tale holes left by other fishermen often indicate good spots; and if you see a group of people gathered on ice, you can be reasonably sure that it's a "hot spot."

CUT HOLE IN ICE, drop in line and start hauling in your catch — that's the advice of the Illinois Division of Tourism upon noting year-after-year growth in the popularity of the sport.

mer for cleaning the chipped ice out of the holes, a total investment of from three to seven dollars.

Remember they are a congenial group and will probably be glad to give you advice about technique or equipment. A good view to give ice fishing a try. The growing popularity of ice fishing as a way to Enjoy Illinois should certainly prove as the Conservation man said, "If the fishermen huddled on the ice fish are biting, the fisherman use is that it's safe if others are there."

The next time you see a group of fishermen huddled on the ice fish are biting, the fisherman use is that it's safe if others are there."

called by the uninitiated. The sportsman who wants a new and exciting experience would be advised to give ice fishing a try.

The growing popularity of ice fishing as a way to Enjoy Illinois should certainly prove as the Conservation man said, "If the fishermen huddled on the ice fish are biting, the fisherman use is that it's safe if others are there."

GRANITE CITY, ILLINOIS

Groundhog Day

By JOHN W. ALLEN

Southern Illinois University
Recently a group of ten-year-olds visiting at the Southern Illinois campus were having fun with "tongue-twisters," a pastime seldom observed now. One of the "twisters" being belabored was an old, but as yet unanswered, question "How much wood would a woodchuck chuck if a woodchuck would chuck wood?" Some of the participants could do it most glibly.

With January well on its way out and the day when Marmota Monax will awaken from his winter-long slumber nearing, the youngsters' chant naturally brought to mind the approaching Groundhog Day, groundhog being one of the everyday names for the rodent that takes months-long naps.

On Feb. 2, by popular belief, Mr. Groundhog, using his everyday name, will awaken, crawl to the opening of his burrow and take a peek about.

Place in Folklore
Groundhogs and Groundhog Day have a place in the folklore of many countries, even though the animal concerned is a stranger to most persons. Some bits of information about him may be of interest.

Marmota Monax, using his very proper name is described by one writer as being massive and about 13 inches long. That particular writer certainly never saw the venerable specimen that lived for some years, and still may live in a burrow at the base of the hill across the Grand Tower Park driveway from the site of the century-old iron furnaces.

In addition to his names already mentioned the groundhog answers to some others. Some call him a whistling pig because of the manner in which he whistles and chirps. Another name, not heard in use for a lifetime, came from the habit of groundhogs to select homesites that drained well. In like manner people select burial grounds above flood. This a kind of joint tenancy occasionally resulted. When a small boy asked questions about "groundhog hives" in a cemetery an old lady assured him that the holes in question were not those for groundhogs but were made by another animal, the grave robber. Groundhogs are vegetarians.

Simplest of all his names is just plain "chuck".

Groundhogs are lazy, about the laziest animal one can find. Despite his laziness he is noted as the very best kind of a house-tunneling engineer.

Just how people came to designate a special day as the one for his awakening is not known. Somehow it became the same as Candlemas, February second. In turn Candlemas seems to have by creeps out on that date and looks about. If there is enough sunlight to cast a dark shadow he returns to his burrow for another "catnap" of six weeks. If no shadow is to be seen he knocks off sleep and goes about seeking food and companionship. Winter is over.

While Feb. 2 became generally accepted as the proper day for the sleeper's awakening, some legally establishing that date for Marmota Monax to awaken and peer about the country, now accepts the wisdom of the festive board, reports are made of observations and discussions held. Conclusions are inconclusive.

The groundhog according-seem always to be inconclusive. A few years ago a keen-eyed old gentleman was found seated beneath a tree at the bottom of Big Hill and was peering at a groundhog burrow about 70 yards away. He assured me that he could "knock them off" easily if they showed their heads.

This old gentleman also assured the writer that chucks were good meat, better than rabbits, more like a chicken. I sometimes hit, more like a chicken. I sometimes hit, more like a chicken. I sometimes hit, more like a chicken.

Other dangers now beset the groundhog. Men are dropping cyanide into his burrows and covering the outlets. One farmer was seen with his tractor running merrily and a hose leading from the exhaust to the mouth of a Vanishing have any association? This same old gentleman and another down the road assured me that the hide of a groundhog made the best of leather chair seats. It is remembered that in boyhood they were made into excellent shoestrings to lace our brogans.

Other dangers now beset the groundhog. Men are dropping cyanide into his burrows and covering the outlets. One farmer was seen with his tractor running merrily and a hose leading from the exhaust to the mouth of a Vanishing burrow. Chucks definitely are in for hard times.

If groundhogs are eliminated who will know when spring definitely is here? Perhaps it is time for founding a "Society for Preservation of Marmota Monax." Otherwise, groundhogs will go to join the ever-vanishing stock of Vanishing Americans.

Building Plans Told At McKendree College

Construction started Tuesday on three new buildings at McKendree College, Lebanon, according to Edwin E. Voigt, president.

Two dormitories to house 100 men each and a dining facility to seat 600 students will be built at a cost of $1,294,800. One of the dormitories will be ready for occupancy in the fall of 1967 and the entire project is scheduled for completion by March 6, 1968. The project is part of a broad program of growth and development of a new campus at the Methodist-related, four-year liberal arts college which is preparing for an expected growth in enrollment to 800 students by 1970.

The three new buildings have been preceded by three others, a science hall completed in 1965 and a dormitory for women and a campus social and recreational center opened last fall.

A new library and another women's dormitory are scheduled for construction in 1968 and are to be financed by long-term, self-liquidating loans from the college housing program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Student Workers Now Covered by Fair Labor Act

Students holding jobs on the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus now are covered under provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act.

No wage increases are required during the current year, but the act provides hikes in the minimum wage of 15 cents an hour each year for the next five years.

As amended, the act requires an employer to pay time and a half for more than 40 hours of time and a half in compensatory time off during the same pay period.

Philip Eckert, head of student work and financial assistance, said student workers usually are on duty overtime at registration periods. He added that the university's minimum pay scales are equal to or greater than the minimum set by the act.

Richard Grunz, university attorney, said he is unsure of what will happen in the future, especially when student worker minimum wages reach $1.40 per hour, but the overtime provision will cause the greatest problem.

He said the university will have to redefine many of the students jobs, especially for graduate assistants, to comply with job definitions as set by the act.

The new act covers many full-time civil service workers at the university, but only the overtime provisions will affect them.

Eckert noted that the purpose of student employment is to help students financially, and if the rate is substantially increased the over-all number aided may have to be cut.

"I'll give you $8,000 for your $20,000 home."

Ridiculous offer, isn't it? Of course, you wouldn't sell at that price. But look at your fire insurance. Would it cover the cost of replacement if your home burned? Or is it ridiculously low compared to the present value of your house? Ask your MFA insurance agent to review your fire insurance coverage with you.

SIU Getting Rid of Temporary Buildings

Southern Illinois University appears to be on the verge of eliminating one of its most persistent headaches: a motley collection of about 200 temporary buildings it has been forced to use for offices, research and classroom space on the Carbondale campus. Permanent buildings now going up or scheduled to start this year, other projects requested in the school's new budget, may ultimately erase many of the barracks, houses, garages and huts that SIU has purchased since World War II. During a 15-year growth explosion, they have been used for everything from research laboratories to the president's office.

Young GOP Seek Change In Campus Designation

The Young Republicans Club at the Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus is attempting to change the classification of the campus from "commuter" to "resident" before the end of the current session of the State Legislature.

The club is attempting to obtain 100 letters from members of the university and area residents, addressed to state representatives, advocating the change. If enough are received, club members will deliver them in person.

If the classification is changed, the university would be permitted to construct dormitories on the 2600-acre campus. If the change is not made during the current legislative session, another attempt would be delayed until the 1969 session, it was noted by John Edwards, club president.

He said his group will try to form a committee of representatives of campus organizations to work toward the change and hopes to hold its first meeting on Tuesday.

Several representatives of the Social Security Administration of the city hall in Granite City on Feb. 9 to aid Quad-Cityans. The hours will be from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. Ralph Brasher, district manager, said the visits will be monthly if there is sufficient response. He pointed out the staffers will be here to assist anyone with questions about social security and medicare and filing applications.

In addition, students between the ages of 18 and 22 who are attending school and whose parents are drawing social security benefits or whose parent is deceased and insured under social security should meet with the representatives, Brasher advises.

He added that widows, 60, whose deceased husbands had worked under social security also should visit the representatives to discuss filing an application for widows benefits.

Those persons who intend to file an application, he explained, should have with them their birth or baptismal certificate, and widows should have with them a copy of their marriage certificate.

Juvenile Arrests Double In Madison Police Cases

The Madison police department booked 948 persons during 1966 and detained 135 juveniles, more than double the number picked up in police cases in 1965, according to a report by Emmett Pazio, Madison chief of police.

The total of 948 persons booked at police headquarters for all reasons, including those held temporarily in investigations, was a reduction of 192 below the previous year, and included 432 defendants named in traffic tickets.

Chief Pazio's report said 343 traffic accidents were reported in the city during the year, a reduction of 48 below the 1965 figure of 391. While traffic accidents were fewer, however, the city had three traffic deaths compared to none in 1965. There were 77 persons injured in traffic accidents, only three less than the 1965 total of 80.

Madison's humane officer handled 326 dogs during 1966, compared to 455 the previous year. There were no rabid dogs reported either in 1965 or 1966, but 62 persons were reported bitten in 1966, compared to 35 the previous year.

One Rabbit Bite

Keeping pace with events of the previous year, the 1966 report listed one person as the victim of a rabbit bite, the same as reported the previous year. The report said that a total of 41 persons were charged with felonies during the year including three for rape, seven for aggravated assault, five for burglary, 28 for larceny and one for auto theft. Of these, all but one was convicted of the offense with which he was charged or found guilty under lesser charges. The one case dismissed involved a larceny charge.

363 Persons Charged
A total of 363 other persons were charged with other crimes, including felonies and misdemeanors, but not including traffic charges, the report added.

These included 92 on assault charges, two for fraud, four for embezzlement, six for carrying weapons, one for possession of narcotics, five for driving under the influence of alcohol, 15 for violation of liquor laws, ten for drunkenness, 47 for disorderly conduct, one for vagrancy and 17 miscellaneous offenses.

Convictions or guilty pleas were obtained in all but 18 of these cases with 185 guilty of lesser charges.

A total of 367 offenses were reported to police during the year, the report said, compared to 325 in 1965. These included three rape cases, eight robbery cases, 77 assault cases, 64 burglary cases, 37 cases of larceny over $50 value and 158 cases of larceny involving less than $50 value, and 20 auto theft cases.

Police worked solved 111 of these offenses: all of the three rape cases; 66 of the 77 assault cases; six of the 64 burglary cases; six of the 37 cases of larceny over Ordinary foods, not pills, are the preferred sources of vitamins, minerals and other nutrients. Our American food supply is unsurpassed in both a quantity and nutritional value.

Persons in good health who eat a variety of foods have no need to worry about nutritional deficiencies.

Before you buy vitamins on the basis of "better health" propaganda, ask your doctor whether he thinks you need them.

Don't Underestimate Importance of a Will

A will is probably the most important legal document the average family requires. Although attorneys emphasize that wills should be prepared for both a husband and wife, fewer than one of two families make such arrangements.

A will is essential in your estate plan. With it you can give specific instructions for the disposal of your assets and save as much of these assets as possible by avoiding unnecessary expenses and taxes.

Here are some of the things you can do with a will:

1. Provide for family members according to their needs.
2. Make a truly equitable plan for distributing property.
3. Transfer a farm intact as a going concern, including livestock, equipment and machinery.
4. Make maximum use of tax-saving devices, such as the marital deduction, life estates and trusts.
5. Designate who shall be guardian of minor children.

6. Designate a responsible executor to manage and distribute the estate, and provide that he serve without bond.

You can alter or revoke your will at any time. It is important to alter an estate plan to correspond with changes in circumstances.

Although a husband and wife may make a joint or mutual will, the survivor may be bound for life by an arrangement that might have tragic consequences. For this reason individual wills are often recommended by attorneys.

Vitamins No Cure-All

The importance of vitamins for life and growth is recognized. But you should not use vitamins as a self-treatment to cure a disease. Vitamins should be taken medicinally only on the advice of one's physician and under his supervision.

Don't be misled by the sales agent who poses as a "health educator" or a "nutrition expert."

Kerner, Hearn, Meet Today on Clean Air Pact

Governors Kerner of Illinois and Hearn of Missouri accompanied by the members of their air pollution control boards, are to meet in St. Louis today to discuss the possibility of a bi-state compact to control air pollution in the Illinois-Missouri Metropolitan area. The meeting was arranged a week ago as the result of the Kerner in an effort to solve differences over pollutant standards adopted by the Missouri Air Conservation Commission and those recommended by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council, with a third set of regulations—those of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board—to be adopted soon. The Illinois Board has been conducting public hearings since early January and is scheduled to hold five such scheduled hearings in East St. Louis Feb. 15.

The hearing is to convene at 10 a.m. in the Stadium Motor Hotel. The hearing will be open to the public. The Illinois Board has been conducting public hearings since early January and is scheduled to hold five such scheduled hearings in East St. Louis Feb. 15.

Previous hearings have been held in Decatur and Peoria and on Feb. 20 and in Sterling on Feb. 15. East St. Louis discussions. They will be held in Joliet on Feb. 20 and in Sterling on Feb. 21.

Federal Plan Proposed. The attempt to settle control differences between the two states came simultaneously with a proposal by President Johnson for a six-point federal-state program to intensify the attack on air pollution.

In a message to Congress this week, the President recommended adoption of an air quality act that would impose pollution controls on major industries and set up regional enforcement offices to administer the program on an area basis.

Mr. Johnson warned that the "pollution problem is getting worse despite existing control programs, and said the control is not even controlling today's level of pollution.

At the state level, disagreement over the federal government's participation in interstate control compacts was interpreted by state officials as a major obstacle to conclusion of such a pact. Illinois officials maintain that a federal representative on a commission administering the compact should not be allowed to vote, while Missouri spokesmen said the federal representative should have voting power.

The Illinois officials point out that compact commissions have an equal number of members from each state and that any vote over any particular issue could be determined by the vote of the federal representative.

Governors Must Agree. This is one of the issues that is expected to be considered by Kerner and Hearn in compact discussions. At a meeting of the Illinois Air Pollution Control Board in Chicago, Clarence W. Klassen, the board's technical secretary, said the compact "hopefully could be drawn" if the governors agree on some philosophical points.

"There have been some basic disagreements at the staff level," Klassen said. "They have to be worked out by the governors if we are to get off dead center."

Differences between Illinois and Missouri over the stringency of some pollutant requirements, particularly sulfur content of coal used for industrial purposes and limitation of sulfur dioxide and other sulfate pollutants by industries.

Housewives Fined for East Alton Shoplifting

Three housewives, including two from the Quad-Cities, were fined a total of $60 each Monday in East Alton magistrate's court after pleading guilty to two charges of shoplifting at East Alton stores.

They are Mrs. Patricia Joyce Maxwell, 27, of 4536 Nameoki road; Mrs. Eugenia Lee Crader, 26, of 1809 Third street, Madison; and Mrs. Marilyn Joyce Miser, 18, of Collinsville. The three were arrested last Friday evening by East Alton police who found clothing valued at about $127 in their auto on the Eastgate shopping center parking lot. The loot was taken from Arlan's and Penney's stores.

Lopez, on Break from Helicoptering, Tells of GI's Activities in Vietnam

Michael Lopez, former Press-Record photographer who now is an Army warrant officer and helicopter pilot in Vietnam, is having a brief break from combat duty doing public information officer chores, but expects soon to return to his home base.

His impression of the rest area with its paved highways along a sandy beach of Cam Ranh bay is — "You'd think you are back stateside somewhere."

"Perhaps the first thing I should do is tell you a little bit about my unit. As most people in the Army know, for every soldier in the unit, there are about 11 or so back in a more secured area supporting him."

Battles Anywhere
"Of course, as most people realize, there are no front lines here as there have been in conventional war, and a battle can spring up almost anywhere. But, even the 129th Assault Helicopter Co. is unique in its operation."

"This is the only aviation company that has been in the field for a year. While we know that many aviation units have been in Vietnam, most are working out of a secured area or an established air base and the personnel lives in permanent or semi-permanent structures."

"My company carries its tents and all equipment with it. In fact, during the past year, it has had 25 different homes and has been tagged with the nickname—Cypriotes."

Night Operations

Lopez related that his unit been working on the border of Cambodia supporting the 101st Airborne Division in its operations carried on at night.

"Some of the LZs (landing zones) we have during the day are rough to get into and even harder to get out, but only to those who have piloted an aircraft at night and landed to a couple of flashlights in an unsecured area can the full extent of the eunessiness be felt as it is in my case."

"But, nevertheless, the move was completed in slightly over five hours without incident."

"So far since I've been here the past few months, I've run into Sgt. Autrail Cobb of Granite City (who returned to the U.S. last month) and Specialist Robert Ebersole of Madison, a crew chief-gunner and member of a sister unit, the 48th Aviation Co. He has about two months to go."

"Most of the time, however, I don't get to talk to my passengers, for I'm sitting up front and we don't stay on the ground too long. That's our most vulnerable position."

Surfing On Airmatress

"I'm finding life here a little different than I had expected, and already have made a couple of trips to areas along the coast. I spent several hours along the coast, I spent several hours riding the surf on my air matress."

"The people here are very friendly, and it's entertaining just to go into one of the towns and barter. Practically anything can be bought in a Vietnamese town."

"If they don't have what you want, you just draw a picture of it, return in a couple of days and they'll have it ready. These people are terrific craftsmen and can do copy almost anything."

"I'm trying to assemble a portable dark room piece-by-piece. My hope is that within two weeks I'll be able to have a working photo lab that will fit into a foot locker."

The other evening I developed a roll of film in a paper coffee cup.

"I would like to thank the many Quad-Cityans who extended me and my uniformed brothers their Christmas greetings."

"Mail is one of the most treasured and waited for items a fellow wants 12,000 miles from home."

"I guess many back home worry about our diets. Almost everywhere I've been the food has been terrific. We have fresh eggs and meat daily. And I know from personal experience that we afloat many hot meals to the troops in the field today."

tasty C-rations can be if you've got the time to warm them up. When you've been flying for six or seven hours and get a few minutes break, they even taste good cold."
